

6-15-1911

The Independent, V. 37, Thursday, June 15, 1911, [Whole Number: 1874]

The Independent

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/independent>

 Part of the American Politics Commons, Cultural History Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Independent, The, "The Independent, V. 37, Thursday, June 15, 1911, [Whole Number: 1874]" (1911). The Independent Newspaper, 1898-1952. 679.

<https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/independent/679>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Historic Trappe at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Independent Newspaper, 1898-1952 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.

MANY MARRIAGES
IN THE PAST WEEK

June Weddings Keep the Ministers Busy. Dr. Messinger United Three Couples in One Day.

Schwenk-Shaffer.
At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Prantz, the marriage of Anna J. Schwenk, of Providence Square and Edwood Shaffer, of Philadelphia, was solemnized on Thursday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. L. Messinger, D. D., pastor of St. Luke's Reformed church, Trappe.

Grubb-Platt.
Mr. John Platt and Miss Flora Grubb, both of Collegeville, were united in marriage on Thursday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Grubb, by Rev. Dr. S. L. Messinger, pastor of St. Luke's Reformed church, Trappe.

Daub-Saylor.
Miss Harriet S. Daub, a well-known young lady of Trappe, was married on last Wednesday evening in Augustus Lutheran church to Mr. Harry D. Saylor, of Pottstown. The wedding was a quiet one. Rev. W. O. Fogely performed the ceremony. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Sheats and the bride by her sister, Helen. Mr. and Mrs. Saylor will reside in Pottstown, where the young man has a clerical position.

Jones-Famous.
Mr. Joseph G. Famous, of Oaks, and Miss Susie C. Jones, of Yerkess, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Jones, last Thursday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. McKee. Mr. and Mrs. Famous are residing at Yerkess.

Dr. Graber Married.
Dr. Henry Graber, a graduate of Ursinus College, class of 1908, now a Royersford physician, was married on Saturday to Miss Arville Whitman, of Philadelphia.

Faust-Clemens.
Dr. S. L. Messinger officiated at three weddings on Thursday. Two have already been noted. The third was the marriage of Arthur Clemens and Miss Katie Faust, both of Royersford, at St. Luke's parsonage, Trappe.

Weber-Bean Nuptials.
A wedding, the principals of which are well known in this section, occurred on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. Sarah H. Bean at Creamery. Her daughter, Miss Sarah H. Bean was married to Morgan C. Weber, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. Y. Weber, of Evansburg. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion and there were a number of relatives and friends present to witness the happy event. Rev. F. C. Yost, formerly of Collegeville, was the officiating clergyman. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bean, brother and sister-in-law of the bride. Miss Kathryn Metz played the wedding march and the ushers were Perry B. Hunsicker and John C. Weber. After the ceremony a dinner was served. An automobile conveyed Mr. and Mrs. Weber to Norristown where they embarked for Atlantic City. Mr. and Mrs. Weber have taken up their residence in their newly furnished home in Evansburg.

Dambly-Hallman.
The wedding of Harry W. Dambly, of the Montgomery Transcript, and Miss Sarah D. Hall, both of Skippack, occurred Thursday afternoon in Trinity Reformed Church, at that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. C. Yost. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present.

COMMISSIONER ON STATE'S FIRST MILK STANDARD LAW.
In an interview, Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust, commented upon the new milk law which was approved by Governor Tener on the 8th of June. This law, said the Commissioner, marks a great step forward in the interest of the consumer and the honest dairyman. It puts the pump out of commission as a substitute for the good old brindle cow, and gives the town child a chance to get fair food. The law fixes the standard for milk-fat at 3.25 per cent, and that for total milk solids at 12 per cent, these being the percentages below which milk sold for household use, and to be served in hotels, restaurants and boarding houses, may not go. This is the first law enacted in Pennsylvania in which a milk standard for the entire State has been fixed. The standard thus set is identical with the National standard, and prohibits the sale of cream of a mixture of cream milk with evaporated or condensed milk, or with any other substance having the effect of increasing its thickness or consistency.

NEWS FROM COUNTY AND STATE.

Happenings From Near and Far Told in Brief Paragraphs.

Governor Tener has vetoed the Campbell milk bill establishing 60 degrees as the highest temperature at which milk could be brought into the cities.

Republican leader Charles Johnson is improving his fine colonial home in Plymouth township.

Five hundred delegates representing 7800 members of the order of Red Men will hold a big powwow at Shamokin this week.

Thrown from his carriage when his horse frightened at a trolley sprinkler, C. H. Mallon, of Bridgeport, aged 23 years, died at Charity Hospital.

Arlington authorities have notified Governor Tener that he exceeded the speed limit when he drove his automobile through that township, some time ago.

Dropping 45 feet when a scaffold on a stack at the Bridgeport Fibre Company's plant collapsed Monday, Jacob Smith, a bricklayer, was killed and his son Robert, seriously injured.

After a heated controversy lasting several months, it has finally been decided that Pottstown high school graduates will wear caps and gowns at their commencement.

Fred Dyer and a male companion from Norristown had a narrow escape when Dyer's automobile struck an iron trolley pole in Roxborough with great force.

At the commencement at Franklin and Marshall College, the degree of D. D. was conferred on Rev. J. F. Mesick, who is 98 years old.

Convicted of cruelty to a patient, Charles Herrold, an attendant at the State Insane Hospital, was sentenced to two months in jail.

At work in a Keystone telephone manhole, Friday afternoon, Wm. Flood, of Germantown, was shocked to death at a wealthy banker's residence in Roslyn Heights, this county.

York residents have formed an association for the protection of migratory fish in the Susquehanna.

The Lehigh Traction Company has shortened by an hour the length of its working day and has increased the rate per hour so that an average gain of 8 cents a day will accrue to the men.

The salary of Harleysville's school teachers has been raised from $50 to $55 per month.

Mrs. Simon S. Brant, of Pottstown, last week lost her second husband from heart failure, the same disease that killed her first husband 6 years ago.

Over $400 was realized on "tag-day" by Pottstown King's Daughters for the endowment fund of the local hospital.

Twelve-year-old Elmer Brown, of Sanatoga Village, was painfully injured Thursday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile at a point opposite Pleasant View Hotel.

Five hundred clerical and lay delegates, representing 551 parishes with over 150,000 church and nearly 100,000 Sunday School members, attended the Lutheran ministerium just ended at Lancaster.

Houses, stores and barns were separated from their roofs, huge trees were blown across roads, telephone and telegraph lines incapacitated and growing crops damaged by a tornado that swept Chambersburg and vicinity, Saturday night.

RACE SUICIDE IN COLLEGEVILLE.

Other Statistics.

According to the statistics compiled by clerk of the Montgomery county Orphans' Court, race suicide is an actuality in Collegeville. During the past year four births are recorded against fourteen deaths, while for the entire county the births number 1250 and the deaths 925, a gain of 334.

From June, 1910, to June, 1911, the figures are as follows:

Births.	Deaths.
Collegeville	4
Trappe	10
Upper Providence	52
Lower Providence	10
Skippack	25
Limerick	43
Perkiomen	8
Worcester	13
Royersford	45
Lansdale	61
Schuylkill	32
East Greenville	32
Green Lane	13
Pennsburg	33
Norristown	279
Pottstown	422

LIMERICK TOWNSHIP GRADUATED LARGEST CLASS.

From our Limerick Correspondent.

The exercises incident to the annual commencement of the Limerick public schools were held in St. James' church, Saturday evening. There were 22 graduates, the largest class to leave the township schools. A large gathering was present and the exercises were a success in every way. Fourteen of the graduates participated in the program. The class, followed by the directors, marched into the church, which was beautifully decorated with the class colors, purple and gold. The motto, "In All Labor There is Profit," was displayed. The class history and prophecy were well gotten up and pleasingly delivered. The class song was sung with a will and showed the spirit of the class of 1911. The music furnished by the pianist, violinist and cornetist was much appreciated. Rev. Snyder delivered the address to the graduates, which contained sound advice. Other numbers of the program followed.

Salutatory, Hiram K. Gottshall; reading, Vitalis M. Yorgy; essay, Edna Grubb; breaking of wreath, Mary Spaid, Raymond Spaid, Theodore Bonz, recitation, Violet H. Poley; reading, Edna Iselt; valedictory, Ernest O. Graber; presentation of diplomas, Rev. R. S. Snyder. The exercises were presided over by Rev. R. S. Snyder. Mr. Graber, Hiram K. Gottshall, Helen W. Brooks, Bessie Gottshall, Mary Spaid, Vitalis M. Yorgy, Edna Grubb, Edna H. Iselt, Violet H. Poley, George Peterman, Reba N. Spatz, Raymond Spaid, Theodore Bonz, Mary Hutt, Mary E. Einlechner, Raymond D. Lindner, Annie D. Geiger, Russell Daub, Ida M. Tringle, Horace L. Landis, Loretta Remington and Russell B. Longaker.

Upper Providence Commencement.

A smiling June sky and a refreshing temperature brought out a large attendance to the annual commencement of the Upper Providence township public schools, held in Green Tree church, Thursday afternoon. Rev. N. F. Schmidt, pastor of the Lutheran church at Schwenksville, made the commencement address and won great favor with his auditors.

Cameron O. Stevens, of Bechtel's school, delivered the valedictory and Wilbur McKee, of the Green Tree school, the salutatory. The class history was given by Mabel L. Jones of the Quaker school and the presentations by Mary Detwiler of the Mont Clare school. Elsie Fitzcharles of the Mont Clare school was the prophet. A pleasing feature was the singing of the Ursinus quartette. Twelve graduates received their diplomas: Cameron O. Stevens, Wilbur McKee, Mary Detwiler, Elsie Fitzcharles, Beatrice Shively, Fritz Kesting, Joseph McGovern, Myrtle Bare, Ethel Stauffer, Anna Bechtel, Mabel Jones and Bertram Ashenfeller.

Perkiomen Commencement.

From our Ironbridge Correspondent.

The commencement exercises of Perkiomen township, held in Union chapel, Saturday evening, were fairly well attended. The exercises of the evening were delivered by Prof. Charles Wagner, of West Chester. Music was furnished by a Pottstown orchestra. The program announced in last week's INDEPENDENT was carried out and the speakers of the class deserve credit for their efforts.

Shopping by Telephone.

The I. H. Rendinger Company, conducting the largest and best stocked department store in Norristown, have instituted a system whereby residents of all places within a radius of 10 miles of Norristown can buy at their large store by the Bell telephone and have the goods delivered, all without extra cost, when the purchases amount to $2 or more. The advantages of this system, which the advertisement on page 3 more fully explains, are obvious.

Wins Fight For Life.

It was a long and bloody battle for life that was waged by James B. Mesnon, of Newark, N. J., of which he writes: "I had lost much blood from lung hemorrhages, and was very weak and run-down. For eight months I was unable to work. Death seemed close on my heels, when I began, three weeks ago, to use Dr. King's New Discovery. But it has helped me greatly. It is doing all that you claim." For weak, sore lungs, obstinate coughs, asthmalic coughs, hoarseness, la grippe, asthma, hay-fever or any throat or lung trouble it is supreme. 35c & $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Jos. W. Culbert, druggist, Collegeville, and M. T. Hunsicker, of Ironbridge.

HEAT, WIND, THUNDER AND LIGHTNING.

Sunday was one of the hottest June days on record, according to the official forecasters and the common consent of everybody. A storm of no mean proportions developed in the night. A heavy wind did considerable damage in certain sections. Its full force was not felt in this locality, however. About seven o'clock Monday morning lightning struck the point of the roof on H. L. Saylor's water tank. A few slates were dislodged and the wood slightly burned. A fire alarm was sounded but the rain soon put out the blaze. The fire engine was not brought to the scene. At the same time a bolt knocked several bricks from Dr. Cornish's house and tore off a shutter from a second story window at the home of Harry Sterner on the other side of Main street. The electric light service has been impaired.

Three men were electrocuted at Allentown. Many trees were blown down and at several places obstructed streets at Pottstown. The trolley wire on the Pottstown-Boyerstown line was torn down and traffic delayed. At other points along the Reading Transit Company's lines traffic was stalled for a time. An historic willow tree about 100 years old at Pottstown was split in halves. At Norristown several large shade trees fell prey to the wind and a new tank, 60 feet high and of proportionate dimensions, at the plant of the Schleicher Silo Company, was blown down.

Organize New Grange at Worcester.

From our Worcester Correspondent.

A number of the members of Keystone Grange, Trappe, assisted the residents of Worcester in the organization of a grange, Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected: Master, Amos Rothenberger; overseer, A. R. Kriebel; lecturer, Mrs. Elwood Anders; chaplain, Ambrose Kriebel; treasurer, Isiah Anders; secretary, Wm. Seitz; gatekeeper, Leidy Kriebel; Seres, Miss Bobb; Pamina, Miss Shultz; Flora, Miss Heebner; lady assistant steward, Ada Rothenberger.

Property in Upper Providence Sold.

John I. Force, of Mont Clare, recently sold his farm to Frank J. Fell, of Philadelphia, on private terms. Mr. Force will garner this season's crop, but the purchaser will take possession of the house within a few weeks. He will improve the home by installing a hot water heating system and a bathroom and fixtures. Mr. Force, who will have public sale of his farm implements and stock, including six thoroughbred Jersey cows, on Saturday, June 24, will reside on the Reber place until some time next year.

Property Sold.

Through real estate broker Thos. B. Wilson, of Collegeville, Charles Lowmes, proprietor of the Farmers' Hotel at Skippack, has sold his 68-acre farm in Worcester township with the crops and machinery to a Bridgeport individual. The price is $5800. The purchaser will take immediate possession.

Teachers Appointed in Limerick.

The following appointments have been made in Limerick township: Linderman school, John Landis; Steinmetz, Harvey Tyson; Fairview, William I. Kline; St. Peters, Florence Mabery; Yergers, Alice Linderman; Barlow, Miss McIntyre; Linfield primary, Miss Rogers; Linfield, Miss Renninger. The six positions remaining vacant will be given out within a week or two. Eighteen applicants presented themselves for the examinations held on Monday and all acquitted themselves well and were given good certificates.

Perkiomen Township Appointments.

The school directors of Perkiomen township have made the following appointments: Ironbridge grammar, Harvey Saybold; Ironbridge primary, Miss Alice Fisher; Graterford primary, Miss Allebach. No grammar school teacher was appointed for Graterford as the pupils will be sent to the Ironbridge grammar school. The directors are: Jonathan Ziegler, Dr. J. M. Markley, Isaac Kulp, Elmer Detwiler, Henry Kulp, Harvey Moyer.

Schwenksville Appointments.

The Schwenksville School Board was re-organized as follows: President, I. S. Schwenk; Secretary, Rev. N. F. Schmidt; Treasurer, William Bromer. The teachers, F. W. Wack, Elsie Detwiler, Mabel Nyce and Kathryn Bechtel, were re-elected. The tax rate and term of nine months are the same as before. The schools will open on Monday, September 4th.

Skippack Township.

The School Directors have re-organized by electing Jacob Buckwalter, president; Samuel P. Fox, Esq., secretary; and John Cole, treasurer.

Commissioners Award Contracts.

The County Commissioners awarded contracts for painting bridges as follows: To Samuel Trout, Hahn's, $124.40; and roof of DeKalb street, Norristown, $211.75; To F. G. Allenbaugh, Salford bridge, $77.75, and Weldon's $38.50; To R. H. Keller, Sanatoga, $315.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Mary E. Loux.

Mrs. Mary Loux, the mother of Andrew Loux, a well known trolley car conductor, died at Charity Hospital, Norristown, Saturday afternoon. Death resulted from blood poisoning caused by picking a felon on her hand. Deceased was 60 years old and is survived by the son and two daughters. The funeral occurred on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of her son-in-law, William C. Bale, of Norristown. Interment was made in Augustus Lutheran church, Trappe.

Infant Son of Harry Umstead.

George A., son of Harry and Alice Umstead, of Limerick, died Tuesday morning, aged two years and six months. The child had been sick for about three days with an abdominal affection. The funeral will be held on Friday at 1 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Schwenksville cemetery. Undertaker J. L. Bechtel has charge.

PETKIOMEN SEMINARY STUDENT DROWNED.

While swimming with several companions in Perkiomen creek at Palm dam, Samuel Good, of Quincy, Pa., a Junior at Perkiomen Seminary, became exhausted and sank before help could reach him. The tragedy occurred Sunday afternoon. The water was about 12 feet deep. Good, who was a bright student, was about 19 years old.

Take Advantage of This Offer.

Arrange to do your summer shopping before July 1. Up to that date Dives, Pomeroy and Stewart, Pottstown's splendid store, will make a reduction of 10 per cent, to all readers of the INDEPENDENT. In their advertisement on page 2 there is a coupon which if clipped and presented at the store will entitle the bearer to the discount. Ten cents on the dollar is certainly well worth taking advantage of. This offer has been made in order to better introduce this important shopping center, where good service and fair prices are the rule, to the INDEPENDENT's many readers.

THAT GANG PUT IT OVER THE SKIPPACKERS.

The baseball team of the Young Men's Bible Class of St. Luke's Reformed Church, Trappe, trimmed Skippack in a slow game, Saturday afternoon, on the latter's grounds, 11 to 3. The game was long drawn out because of the slowness and wildness of Pitcher Undercoffer, for Skippack. He gave six bases on balls and hit three men, one of whom was Walt, the Gang's star twirler. He hit him on the temple, knocking him out for a few minutes, but the player gamely returned to the game, and, if possible, pitched more brilliantly than ever. At no time did Walt have to exert himself and would have shut his opponents out with ease, had it not been for two overthrows on the part of the men's back of him. Besides the pitching of Walt, the features of the game were the play of E. Wismer, P. Mathieu and Keyser. The score:

	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Keyser, c.	3	1	9	3	1
Her, Mathieu, lf.	0	1	0	0	0
Har, Mathieu, 2b.	1	1	0	1	1
E. Wismer, 3b.	2	1	1	4	0
P. Mathieu, ss.	0	1	1	3	1
C. Wismer, cf.	0	1	0	0	0
Austerfinger, lb.	0	1	3	0	0
Walt, p.	2	1	0	3	0
Hefelfinger, rf.	2	1	0	0	0
Umstead, cf.	0	0	2	0	0
Allebach, rf.	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	11	7	27	13	3

SKIPPACK.

	R.	H.	O.	A.	E.
Dambly, lf.	1	1	0	1	0
Keyser, c.	0	0	1	1	0
Burnes, 2b.	2	2	4	1	1
Williver, lb.	0	0	9	2	1
Undercoffer, p.	0	0	3	2	1
C. Craft, 3b.	0	1	1	0	0
Bean, c.	0	1	9	3	1
Tyson, rf.	0	1	0	0	0
Kriebel, cf.	0	0	0	1	1
Kulp, cf.	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	3	6	37	10	5

St. Luke's.

St. Luke's 10 4 0 13 2 0-11
Skippack 0 0 0 0 10 2-3
Two-base hit—C. Wismer. Hit by pitched ball—Austerfinger, Keyser, Walt and L. Craft. Base on balls—Off Undercoffer, 6; Burns, 3; Stolen bases—Keyser, 2; Wismer, 2; Mathieu, 1; Austerfinger, 1; Allebach, 1; Hefelfinger 2 and Burns. Sacrifice hits—Herman, Mathieu and C. Wismer. Left on bases—St. Luke's, 8; Skippack 5. Umpires—Umstead and C. E. Wismer.

Two Days of Racing at Pottstown.

The June race meeting will be held on the Pottstown mile track on Thursday and Saturday. There are a good string of entries for the different classes which are: Thursday—2.16 class pace, purse $150; 2.21 class trot, purse $150; 3.00 class trot and pace, purse $100. Saturday—free-to-all class trot and pace, purse $150; 2.25 class trot and pace, purse $150; 2.40 class trot and pace, purse $100; mule race, purse $25. The mule race is expected to furnish fun aplenty.

Visitor to Limerick Was Robbed at Circus.

Among the several persons who were victimized by pick-pockets in returning from the circus at Norristown last week, was a young man visiting H. H. Ziegler, of Limerick.

Bass Season Opens To-day.

The season for bass fishing opens to-day (Thursday) but the Perkiomen is so muddy, due to the recent downpours, that no angling for bass will be done.

COLLEGEVILLE LOCALS.

The Firemen's Festival held on Saturday evening in Clamer's park, as usual attracted a large crowd. About $158 was taken in of which it is expected between $80 and $90 will be cleared.

Mrs. Shovel, of 2nd avenue, was taken to Charity Hospital on Wednesday.

John Coldren of Schnylkill Haven is negotiating for the purchase of John H. Custer's bakery.

The meeting of Ladies' Aid Society to have been held last Monday was postponed until next Monday evening on account of inclement weather. The meeting will be held at the home of H. H. Fetterolf.

The property on Second avenue belonging to the estate of Matilda Walt was sold on Friday to David Buckwalter, of this place for $875.

Mrs. Challen and Mrs. J. A. Griffiths delightfully entertained the Thespian Club last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. S. B. Horning. The decorations were in the National colors and the favors from the Jack Horner pie afforded much merriment. Prizes were won by Mrs. Clifford Cassel, Mrs. H. C. Landis and Mrs. J. Barrett.

Messrs. Mathieu, Lockhart, Georges and Godshall, of Ursinus College will sell aluminum ware in Scranton this summer.

Factory Inspector Gus Egolf, of Norristown, was in town, Tuesday. J. W. Yore will move to Dover, Delaware.

Students from Drexel institute, which school is conducting a summer course in surveying at Ursinus College, arrived in town last week and are working with their instruments on the college grounds.

A special meeting of the Alumni Association of the Collegeville High School will be held next Wednesday evening, June 21, at the home of Loretta Schreiner.

Over 100 quarts of fine oxeart cherries were picked from Dr. J. S. Wineberger's tree, last week.

On Friday Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Caldwell moved to Louisville, Ky., where Dr. Caldwell has secured a position at the Louisville University. Dr. Caldwell will teach at the Harvard summer school during July and August.

J. C. Landes has had a cement walk constructed at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wren, who occupy the beautiful residence on Skippack hill, attended the graduating exercises at the Homeopathic Hospital, Philadelphia, Thursday evening. Mrs. Wren is a trained nurse and a graduate from that institution.

Miss Mae Culbert is visiting her father Dr. Joseph Culbert.

Dr. Howard Farringer, of Mount Holly, N. J., was in town last week.

Miss Stella Bolton has been re-elected teacher of the primary school at Skippack, where she has met with great favor.

H. M. Hunsicker and family, of Philadelphia, are spending the summer at Ursinus College.

Lindwood Yost has returned from a visit to his brother, Samuel Yost, at Pomeroy, Pa.

Mrs. Valeria Behney, of Myers-town, spent last week with friends here.

R. E. Miller and family and Mrs. Christian Bauer and children have moved to Glen Farm for the summer months.

Miss Jane Burns visited her cousin, Miss Ruth Mattes, at Royersford, for several days.

Borough Surveyor Dager, of Norristown, was in town Monday.

W. J. Purcell, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday with L. H. Ingram. Walter Turner, of Philadelphia, is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ingram.

Warren Kohen is here for the summer.

Dr. Alec Cornish, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with his brother Dr. S. D. Cornish.

Carrie Klausfelder, a nurse at Charity Hospital, Norristown, is at home for a two-weeks vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Shade, of Royersford, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Price, Sunday.

Mrs. Clawson has gone to New Brunswick, Canada, for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Clamer spent the week end at Atlantic City.

Miss Dora Moyer is home for her summer vacation. Miss Moyer taught during the winter at Glassboro, N. J.

John Bartman and family left on Tuesday for Atlantic City where they will spend the summer.

Miss Florence Ashenfeller and Miss Lloyd, of Philadelphia, were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Ashenfeller.

Charles C. Fitzgerald spent Sunday in Philadelphia.

Mr. Wm. A. Vanderslice spent Sunday at Sanatoga.

Mrs. J. Allen, of Philadelphia, was a guest of Mrs. Challen at Belvedere Camp, last week.

Mosheim's Purchase of Makransky's Surplus Stock of Men's Fine Suits MEANS A BIG SAVING TO YOU!

This store is famed for giving unusual values—putting just a little bit more coin in your bank than the other fellow does. Just now we are better able to show you the advantage of dealing here.

We bought the entire stock of Men's Fine Suits of Makransky's, 314 Market Street, Philadelphia, at a sacrifice of fully 1-3—which means that you pay us:

$12.50 For Regular $16.50 Suits
$15.00 For Regular $20.00 Suits
$18.00 For Regular $25.00 Suits

These suits are not a lot of suits made up in a hurry for sales, but they are of a type got up by thoroughly competent tailors. Their fine handiwork is easily perceptible from the collar to the cuffs of the trousers. Their shaping is there to stay, and the shades are guaranteed, because they contain nothing but wool.

The colors run from the very newest tan and grey herringbone, diagonal worsted weaves to rich deep blues with shadow stripes.

Here's a Great Opportunity for Small Men:

About a hundred and some odd suits that are in neat, light summery shades, that sold for $12.50, $15.00 and $18.00, we are going to sell for FIVE DOLLARS. Reason: Because they have been carried over from last season, and we are not going to risk having them another.

S. MOSHEIM
Pottstown's Principal Clothier.

When you buy FURNITURE and HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS you want the style and qualities you are looking for and full value for your money. Kindly remember that

The Collegeville Furniture Store

IS THE PLACE TO GET STYLE, QUALITY and VALUE; where you can save the expense of trips to larger towns or the city and frequently some cash besides in paying for your purchases. Our stock includes various styles of Furniture, Carpets, Mattings, Oil Cloths, and Linoleums.

CARPETS CLEANED and REPAIRED. REPAIRING and UPHOLSTERING ATTENDED TO.

Furnishing Undertaker and Embalmer.

Orders entrusted to my charge will receive the most careful and painstaking attention.

John L. Bechtel,

COLLEGEVILLE, PA.

HORACE STORR

POTTSTOWN, PENN'A.
Manufacturer and Dealer in All Kinds of AMERICAN and FOREIGN

Marble & Granites

Also Old Granite Work Cleaned to Look Like New.

Special attention given to cleaning Granite Monuments, Tablets, Copings and all kinds of cemetery work no matter of how long standing or how badly discolored. Will guarantee to restore them to their original brightness without injuring the Granite.

Summer Suggestions

A Good Line of Ladies' Dress Goods

Swiss, Lawns, Percales, Gingham, Organdies.

Summer Underwear

For Men, Women and Children.

Full Line of Gents' Furnishings, Hats and Caps

Shoes—

Full line of Oxfords and High-top Shoes in Russets and Black Leathers.

Hardware

Paints, Oils, Wire Fencing, Garden Tools and Seeds.

Horse Clothing

Summer Coolers, Lap Spreads, and Fly Nets.

Lawn Mowers

From $2.50 to $5.00.

Pratt's Poultry Remedies

Seasonable Groceries

and everything else carried by a FIRST-CLASS COUNTRY STORE.

Brownback's

TRAPPE, PA.

Both phones. Goods delivered.

KUHNT'S BAKERY

COLLEGEVILLE, PA.

FIRST-CLASS

Bread
Cakes,
Pies,
Candies, Etc.

Ice Cream, All Flavors.

ORDERS FOR WEDDINGS, FUNERALS and PARTIES promptly attended to.

Charles Kuhnt.

FROM THE FOREST

to the mill, from the mill to our yard, enables us to sell at prices that defy competition. We're the variety to meet every demand, as well as the grade and size. As to prices, they are always low enough, but once in a while our low goes even lower, and this is one of the times. Ask the first carpenter you meet about our stock, deliveries and prices.

LUMBER

"Considering that I wore butternut I had a pretty fair show to pass along the road without being stopped—that is if no telegram had been sent to stop me before I'd cut the wires—and I didn't think any one would suspect a Yankee had stolen the engine. After I had passed the first station I wouldn't likely be called back or stopped by a telegraph. If I could have free road I wouldn't fear getting on, but all those southern roads had but a single track in those days, and I would have to stop and switch to let trains go by.

"Five miles from where I started I passed a small station. It was still early, though it was broad daylight, and no one was up and about. I knew by this that no information about me had got through—at least to this point.

—From the one where I had taken the engine, I pushed on, but stopped after going a few miles to take out the cinders. When this was done I knew I would soon get steam enough to go as fast as the roadbed would permit, which was not very rapid, for there had been no work done on it since the war commenced, and it was very rough. So long as I had stopped I concluded to do some more cutting of the telegraph wires, and, climbing a pole, nipped them again.

"In a few miles more I came to another station. This one was open. I slowed up and called to a man inside: "Bring me a time table, quick."

"He took a soiled table from his pocket and handed it to me.

"Anything coming?" I asked.

"You'll meet No. 5 at B," he replied.

"Next station?"

"Next but one."

"Any side track at the next?"

"Yes. What you doin' runnin' wild this way?"

"Government business," was my reply as I rolled away.

"I glanced at the time table and found the call was to give an account of myself. So I bethought myself what story I would tell. I might say I was bearer of dispatches from one general to another, but I knew nothing about the southern commanders of that region. What I was thinking of I passed another station. A man was sitting on a box reading a morning paper. I slowed down and asked him the news.

"That's been a fight on the Charleston and Savannah railroad at Pocatago," he said.

"Who's in command of our fellows?" I asked.

"General Beauregard."

"This was enough for me. I would pretend to be going for ammunition. It was well that I had found some story to tell, for at the very next station I reached I found a freight train standing on the track stopping my way. I pulled up in front of the locomotive. The engineer of the freight was sitting in his cab reading about the battle the day before. I yelled to him to back up and take the siding. He called the conductor, who asked who I was.

"You'd ought to know by my uniform," I said, "that I'm a Confederate soldier. You get your train out of my way pretty quick."

"What right have you to order me about?"

"Want right? I'm making a quick run for ammunition by General Beauregard's order. If I'm delayed I'll let the general know who delayed me."

"That was too much for him. He ordered his engineer to back up to the siding, and I started putting on full speed as I proceeded.

"I was in such luck about the battle having occurred just in the nick of time and in thinking of my ammunition scheme that I considered it probable I might get through the network ahead of me. I knew that certain parts of North Carolina were full of Union people who would hide me and help me get on northward."

"Fortunately for me there wasn't many trains coming southward, and by working the ammunition story I managed to get on till noon without being stopped. Then I saw by smoke ahead that I was coming to a city, which by my time table I judged to be Raleigh. It was one thing to pass small stations, where the agent had little to do with the running of trains, and another to get through a city where the dispatching was done. While the country was yet open I pulled up at a station. The agent was sitting at a telegraph machine with the window open, and he halted me.

"Say," he said, "I just got word over the wires that there's a wild locomotive cavortin' over the road, and I'm ordered to stop it. Are you the fellow that's running it?"

"Yes, I'm after ammunition for the troops below. I've got to get into Raleigh right off."

"With that I opened her up, and away I went. Looking back, I saw the agent standing on the platform gazing at me.

"I knew now that my run was ended. But I wouldn't leave my locomotive until I had put it on a side track, since I didn't wish to be the cause of an accident. But near the city side tracks were more frequent, and, coming to one of them, I put the machine on it and took to the woods.

"My Confederate trappings were a protection to me, and I felt comparatively safe. I told a boy I met that I was looking for a Union man whose name I couldn't remember, and he told me to go into the next hamlet and inquire of the man who said they were all Union people there.

"I went to the house, found the owner, and having made sure that he was on my side, told him what I had been doing. He took me out to a deserted bakery and hid me in the oven. I remained there till my friend told me that it would be safe to go farther, and then I worked my way, traveling by night and hiding by day, over the mountains into east Tennessee."

An Escape On an Iron Horse

Memorial Day Story

By F. A. MITCHEL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Stories about the war between the states are getting scarce—that is, stories told by men who enacted the events narrated. Time was when veterans used to meet and swap yarns by the dozens—all true too. But now they are too old to get together very often and when they do they find their memories are so defective that it is difficult for them to get through a continuous narrative. They mix up dates and places and armies so that it spoils the story.

A veteran whose hair was white as snow, whose cheeks were hollow, told me this story. It was difficult for me to realize that he was the same man who as a boy nearly half a century ago took part in the adventure he narrated.

"I'd been a prisoner of war so long," he said, "that I felt I'd rather die than stay any longer in that prison pen. So one dark night I got two men to stand up against the fence, the one on the other's shoulders, and I climbed up to the shoulders of the top man, clutched the fence and got on top of it. How I did it I don't know, for I'd had little or nothing to eat for months and was weak as a kitten. I dropped over into soft mud, and luckily the sentry didn't hear me; if he had I'd have been shot.

"Some negroes took me in early the next morning, hid me and gave me plenty of corn pone, with an occasional feed of salt pork. Having got some strength in me I concluded to light out northward. One of 'em told me about

"I saw the agent looking after me," a dead Confederate soldier he'd seen in the woods, and I asked him to get me his clothes. They were nothing but butternut, but there was a brass belt buckle and some other things worth a look at, and that served me as well as a uniform.

"I started to travel nights and he hid among the niggers in daytime. In the morning after starting, when the dawn was breaking and I was looking about for a better place, I got up into the cab, opened the furnace door and saw that the fire was nearly out. I calculated the possibility of getting a ride northward on the machine, but I'd have to fire up before trying it. I was pretty desperate and ready for any risk. So I dropped one lump of coal after another into the fire box, not daring to make the noise of shoveling it in. I worked half an hour at this, and concluded that whoever was running that engine must be pretty sleepy, for no one appeared to interfere with me. I should have raked out the ashes, but I didn't dare do that, for the noise it would make. Pretty soon the steam began to make a noise escaping, and I didn't dare defer my departure any longer. I uncoupled the box cars, mounted the engine and made as noiseless a start as possible.

"My heart was beating wildly, I kept my eye to the rear, but when I came to a turn around a rise in the ground without seeing any one behind me I gathered courage and let her go. I got over some five miles in about fifteen minutes. When I stopped and, taking a file from a tool box in the cab, climbed a telegraph pole and cut the wires. This was to keep any one from heading me off.

"Considering that I wore butternut I had a pretty fair show to pass along the road without being stopped—that is if no telegram had been sent to stop me before I'd cut the wires—and I didn't think any one would suspect a Yankee had stolen the engine. After I had passed the first station I wouldn't likely be called back or stopped by a telegraph. If I could have free road I wouldn't fear getting on, but all those southern roads had but a single track in those days, and I would have to stop and switch to let trains go by.

"Five miles from where I started I passed a small station. It was still early, though it was broad daylight, and no one was up and about. I knew by this that no information about me had got through—at least to this point.

—From the one where I had taken the engine, I pushed on, but stopped after going a few miles to take out the cinders. When this was done I knew I would soon get steam enough to go as fast as the roadbed would permit, which was not very rapid, for there had been no work done on it since the war commenced, and it was very rough. So long as I had stopped I concluded to do some more cutting of the telegraph wires, and, climbing a pole, nipped them again.

"In a few miles more I came to another station. This one was open. I slowed up and called to a man inside: "Bring me a time table, quick."

"He took a soiled table from his pocket and handed it to me.

"Anything coming?" I asked.

"You'll meet No. 5 at B," he replied.

"Next station?"

"Next but one."

"Any side track at the next?"

"Yes. What you doin' runnin' wild this way?"

"Government business," was my reply as I rolled away.

"I glanced at the time table and found the call was to give an account of myself. So I bethought myself what story I would tell. I might say I was bearer of dispatches from one general to another, but I knew nothing about the southern commanders of that region. What I was thinking of I passed another station. A man was sitting on a box reading a morning paper. I slowed down and asked him the news.

"That's been a fight on the Charleston and Savannah railroad at Pocatago," he said.

"Who's in command of our fellows?" I asked.

"General Beauregard."

"This was enough for me. I would pretend to be going for ammunition. It was well that I had found some story to tell, for at the very next station I reached I found a freight train standing on the track stopping my way. I pulled up in front of the locomotive. The engineer of the freight was sitting in his cab reading about the battle the day before. I yelled to him to back up and take the siding. He called the conductor, who asked who I was.

"You'd ought to know by my uniform," I said, "that I'm a Confederate soldier. You get your train out of my way pretty quick."

"What right have you to order me about?"

"Want right? I'm making a quick run for ammunition by General Beauregard's order. If I'm delayed I'll let the general know who delayed me."

"That was too much for him. He ordered his engineer to back up to the siding, and I started putting on full speed as I proceeded.

"I was in such luck about the battle having occurred just in the nick of time and in thinking of my ammunition scheme that I considered it probable I might get through the network ahead of me. I knew that certain parts of North Carolina were full of Union people who would hide me and help me get on northward."

"Fortunately for me there wasn't many trains coming southward, and by working the ammunition story I managed to get on till noon without being stopped. Then I saw by smoke ahead that I was coming to a city, which by my time table I judged to be Raleigh. It was one thing to pass small stations, where the agent had little to do with the running of trains, and another to get through a city where the dispatching was done. While the country was yet open I pulled up at a station. The agent was sitting at a telegraph machine with the window open, and he halted me.

"Say," he said, "I just got word over the wires that there's a wild locomotive cavortin' over the road, and I'm ordered to stop it. Are you the fellow that's running it?"

"Yes, I'm after ammunition for the troops below. I've got to get into Raleigh right off."

"With that I opened her up, and away I went. Looking back, I saw the agent standing on the platform gazing at me.

"I knew now that my run was ended. But I wouldn't leave my locomotive until I had put it on a side track, since I didn't wish to be the cause of an accident. But near the city side tracks were more frequent, and, coming to one of them, I put the machine on it and took to the woods.

"My Confederate trappings were a protection to me, and I felt comparatively safe. I told a boy I met that I was looking for a Union man whose name I couldn't remember, and he told me to go into the next hamlet and inquire of the man who said they were all Union people there.

"I went to the house, found the owner, and having made sure that he was on my side, told him what I had been doing. He took me out to a deserted bakery and hid me in the oven. I remained there till my friend told me that it would be safe to go farther, and then I worked my way, traveling by night and hiding by day, over the mountains into east Tennessee."

"Five miles from where I started I passed a small station. It was still early, though it was broad daylight, and no one was up and about. I knew by this that no information about me had got through—at least to this point.

—From the one where I had taken the engine, I pushed on, but stopped after going a few miles to take out the cinders. When this was done I knew I would soon get steam enough to go as fast as the roadbed would permit, which was not very rapid, for there had been no work done on it since the war commenced, and it was very rough. So long as I had stopped I concluded to do some more cutting of the telegraph wires, and, climbing a pole, nipped them again.

"In a few miles more I came to another station. This one was open. I slowed up and called to a man inside: "Bring me a time table, quick."

"He took a soiled table from his pocket and handed it to me.

"Anything coming?" I asked.

"You'll meet No. 5 at B," he replied.

"Next station?"

"Next but one."

"Any side track at the next?"

"Yes. What you doin' runnin' wild this way?"

"Government business," was my reply as I rolled away.

"I glanced at the time table and found the call was to give an account of myself. So I bethought myself what story I would tell. I might say I was bearer of dispatches from one general to another, but I knew nothing about the southern commanders of that region. What I was thinking of I passed another station. A man was sitting on a box reading a morning paper. I slowed down and asked him the news.

"That's been a fight on the Charleston and Savannah railroad at Pocatago," he said.

"Who's in command of our fellows?" I asked.

"General Beauregard."

"This was enough for me. I would pretend to be going for ammunition. It was well that I had found some story to tell, for at the very next station I reached I found a freight train standing on the track stopping my way. I pulled up in front of the locomotive. The engineer of the freight was sitting in his cab reading about the battle the day before. I yelled to him to back up and take the siding. He called the conductor, who asked who I was.

"You'd ought to know by my uniform," I said, "that I'm a Confederate soldier. You get your train out of my way pretty quick."

"What right have you to order me about?"

"Want right? I'm making a quick run for ammunition by General Beauregard's order. If I'm delayed I'll let the general know who delayed me."

"That was too much for him. He ordered his engineer to back up to the siding, and I started putting on full speed as I proceeded.

"I was in such luck about the battle having occurred just in the nick of time and in thinking of my ammunition scheme that I considered it probable I might get through the network ahead of me. I knew that certain parts of North Carolina were full of Union people who would hide me and help me get on northward."

"Fortunately for me there wasn't many trains coming southward, and by working the ammunition story I managed to get on till noon without being stopped. Then I saw by smoke ahead that I was coming to a city, which by my time table I judged to be Raleigh. It was one thing to pass small stations, where the agent had little to do with the running of trains, and another to get through a city where the dispatching was done. While the country was yet open I pulled up at a station. The agent was sitting at a telegraph machine with the window open, and he halted me.

"Say," he said, "I just got word over the wires that there's a wild locomotive cavortin' over the road, and I'm ordered to stop it. Are you the fellow that's running it?"

"Yes, I'm after ammunition for the troops below. I've got to get into Raleigh right off."

"With that I opened her up, and away I went. Looking back, I saw the agent standing on the platform gazing at me.

"I knew now that my run was ended. But I wouldn't leave my locomotive until I had put it on a side track, since I didn't wish to be the cause of an accident. But near the city side tracks were more frequent, and, coming to one of them, I put the machine on it and took to the woods.

"My Confederate trappings were a protection to me, and I felt comparatively safe. I told a boy I met that I was looking for a Union man whose name I couldn't remember, and he told me to go into the next hamlet and inquire of the man who said they were all Union people there.

"I went to the house, found the owner, and having made sure that he was on my side, told him what I had been doing. He took me out to a deserted bakery and hid me in the oven. I remained there till my friend told me that it would be safe to go farther, and then I worked my way, traveling by night and hiding by day, over the mountains into east Tennessee."

"Five miles from where I started I passed a small station. It was still early, though it was broad daylight, and no one was up and about. I knew by this that no information about me had got through—at least to this point.

—From the one where I had taken the engine, I pushed on, but stopped after going a few miles to take out the cinders. When this was done I knew I would soon get steam enough to go as fast as the roadbed would permit, which was not very rapid, for there had been no work done on it since the war commenced, and it was very rough. So long as I had stopped I concluded to do some more cutting of the telegraph wires, and, climbing a pole, nipped them again.

"In a few miles more I came to another station. This one was open. I slowed up and called to a man inside: "Bring me a time table, quick."

"He took a soiled table from his pocket and handed it to me.

"Anything coming?" I asked.

"You'll meet No. 5 at B," he replied.

"Next station?"

"Next but one."

"Any side track at the next?"

"Yes. What you doin' runnin' wild this way?"

"Government business," was my reply as I rolled away.

"I glanced at the time table and found the call was to give an account of myself. So I bethought myself what story I would tell. I might say I was bearer of dispatches from one general to another, but I knew nothing about the southern commanders of that region. What I was thinking of I passed another station. A man was sitting on a box reading a morning paper. I slowed down and asked him the news.

"That's been a fight on the Charleston and Savannah railroad at Pocatago," he said.

"Who's in command of our fellows?" I asked.

"General Beauregard."

"This was enough for me. I would pretend to be going for ammunition. It was well that I had found some story to tell, for at the very next station I reached I found a freight train standing on the track stopping my way. I pulled up in front of the locomotive. The engineer of the freight was sitting in his cab reading about the battle the day before. I yelled to him to back up and take the siding. He called the conductor, who asked who I was.

"You'd ought to know by my uniform," I said, "that I'm a Confederate soldier. You get your train out of my way pretty quick."

"What right have you to order me about?"

"Want right? I'm making a quick run for ammunition by General Beauregard's order. If I'm delayed I'll let the general know who delayed me."

"That was too much for him. He ordered his engineer to back up to the siding, and I started putting on full speed as I proceeded.

"I was in such luck about the battle having occurred just in the nick of time and in thinking of my ammunition scheme that I considered it probable I might get through the network ahead of me. I knew that certain parts of North Carolina were full of Union people who would hide me and help me get on northward."

"Fortunately for me there wasn't many trains coming southward, and by working the ammunition story I managed to get on till noon without being stopped. Then I saw by smoke ahead that I was coming to a city, which by my time table I judged to be Raleigh. It was one thing to pass small stations, where the agent had little to do with the running of trains, and another to get through a city where the dispatching was done. While the country was yet open I pulled up at a station. The agent was sitting at a telegraph machine with the window open, and he halted me.

"Say," he said, "I just got word over the wires that IRONBRIDGE.

A. Heiser Detwiler and wife, of Trappe and Abram Hendricks and wife, of Collegeville, were the Sunday guests of F. T. Saylor's.

John B. Cook, of Philadelphia, visited friends at this place on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gottshalk, Mr. and Mrs. Burns Johnson, of Pottstown, and Mr. J. Lewis Kline and family, of Philadelphia, were the week end guests of Theodore Schwander.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gennaria, of near Collegeville, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Panneyacker on Sunday.

S. Randall Detwiler is spending some time with his brother Isaiah Detwiler.

Joseph Custer and wife spent Sunday with their son Warren Custer at Phoenixville.

John K. Rahn, of Phoenixville, spent Sunday with his father Isaac Rahn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Moyer and children attended the wedding dinner of her sister Mrs. Josiah Steinmetz at Royersford on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Haldeman spent a few days in Harrisburg the past week.

Mr. Elmer Undercoffer and Miss Mary Rahn, of Schwenksville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sophia Undercoffer.

M. K. Hunsicker has moved into Mrs. Annie Longacre's house.

Miss Flora Spare is spending a week in Allentown.

SCHWENKSVILLE.

Quite a few from this place attended the commencement exercises at Limerick on Saturday evening.

Jacob Groff and wife will start housekeeping this week in a part of Wm. Halling's tenant house, vacated by John Halling.

Freeland Smith entertained on Sunday Mrs. Joe Bonnoway and daughter Etta and Master Paul Famous of Norristown.

The annual strawberry and ice cream festival given by the Path-finder class will be held on the Reformed church lawn on Saturday evening, and in case of inclement weather in Bromer's hall. Music by the Liberty Band.

The household goods of Garfield Dyer are being moved from Royersford to Schwenksville, where he has rented the house vacated by Harry Shatz.

Miss Odie Collins, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. I. H. Barmann.

Jacob S. Keely is suffering with rheumatism.

A dance will be held in Bean's hall on Friday night. Good music by Meng's orchestra.

EAGLEVILLE.

The Mite Society of the Lower Providence Baptist Church will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Mr. John Smith, on Thursday evening, June 15.

Mrs. Charles Vanderslice, of Royersford, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Saylor.

Mrs. John Smythe, a former resident, now of the county home, is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander and Mrs. Wm. Fisher and son, of Philadelphia, are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

Rev. and Mrs. D. W. Sheppard are attending the meetings of the Northern Baptists' convention and the World's alliance in Philadelphia.

Mrs. W. Gordon Jones, of Scranton, was entertained by Mrs. Clarence Place on Sunday.

YERKES.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. K. Nace and children, of Ironbridge, visited Joseph Miller and wife on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alleback, of Conshohocken, visited Mr. and Mrs. Abram Gotwals and family over Saturday and Sunday.

Alvin Hauck and Raleigh Johnson spent Saturday evening and Sunday with their parents at Frederick station.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kurts and Mr. Wm. Ellis, all of Phoenixville visited Mr. and Mrs. James G. Detwiler and family on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Darius Kline gave a party last Thursday evening in honor of Mr. Kline's father, who resides with them. A very pleasant evening was spent by all present.

CREAMERY.

Howard A. Pennepacker was chosen minister of the Upper Mennonite congregation, last Thursday. He was chosen from a class of six.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Weber returned from Atlantic City, Sunday evening and on Monday evening the calathumpians paid them a visit and rendered a few selections, for which they were amply rewarded. On Tuesday they started house-keeping in their newly furnished home at Evansburg.

Mrs. Walter Spiece, of Philadelphia, is staying with the family of H. L. Moyer.

Dr. Fred Baer, of Philadelphia, was a visitor at the home of Frank Hartman, Sunday.

John Kulp improved his house with a fresh coat of paint.

Mrs. Chas. A. Groff last week received a bit from a dog. It caused her much suffering.

EVANSBURG.

Miss Ella M. Hunsicker spent Saturday and Sunday as the guests of Miss Alice Casselberry.

Rosa Fillman and Florence Brunner, of Norristown, visited Mary Young, Saturday and Sunday.

Strawberry and ice-cream festival at the U. E. church, on Saturday evening, the 17th. All welcome.

Isaiah C. Detwiler is making extensive improvements to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Weber on Tuesday moved into their residence in this place.

LIMERICK.

Miss Marion Sheetz, of Norristown, visited Edward Tyson and family on Saturday.

Marion and Edward D. Tyson are visiting in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zollers and son and daughter have returned to their home in Philadelphia.

The L. A. C. was again defeated by a Pottstown team on Saturday, 7 to 5.

Master Frank Schlechter came home on Saturday after spending some time in Allentown.

Mr. Lauchs and family, of Siloh, N. J., is spending his vacation with his parents. Mr. Lauchs is principal of the schools in the New Jersey town.

Rev. Radcliffe preached in St. James' church, Sunday.

The funeral of Mr. Brier was held at the Limerick Center church, Saturday afternoon. Rev. Schmidt preached the sermon. Funeral director Wilson, of Pottstown, had charge.

Mrs. Howard Linderman, of Philadelphia, was home over Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Frantz, of Norristown, was the guest of Miss Alice Linderman.

Harvey Seybold was home for a few days, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Spare, of Millersville, visited in town, Saturday and Sunday.

A son of Harry Umstead died on Tuesday.

John Trumbauer visited his son at Royersford recently.

Frank Peterman is having new cement steps put down in front of his place.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Linford Schlechter, Saturday.

GRATERFORD.

Jonas P. Fisher shipped a load of fat cattle to Philadelphia on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Nye, of Souderton, spent Sunday with John S. Kline.

Mr. Solomon Good and family, of Spring City, spent Sunday with Jos. B. Wismer.

While Joseph Nye, grandson of John S. Kline, was helping Mr. Kline to haul in grass, he made a misstep from the wagon, fell and broke his arm. Dr. Markley set the fracture.

Amos Copenhaver is spending several days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Copenhaver.

The services in the Union Chapel last Thursday evening were very well attended.

H. H. Reinford is building a new chicken house, and remodeling his barn. H. H. Yellis is doing the work.

Mrs. F. G. Yellis had a number of summer boarders over Saturday and Sunday.

M. B. M. C. prayer meeting on Thursday evening June 22 at the home of Clinton Drazee near Graterford.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Koons spent Sunday at Trooper.

Claude Kulp spent Sunday with Russel Wismer in Norristown.

Miss Annie Pelen, of Norristown, spent Sunday with her sister Mrs. Aaron Schwenk.

Mrs. James Detwiler and daughter, Annie, of Yerkess, spent Tuesday with Susan Kulp.

Joseph G. Tyson, an old resident of Skippack Township, moved into Mary Fisher's house on Thursday.

Viola Bergstresser, a graduate of Shiloh College, has secured a permanent position with the Atlantic Radiator Co., 1056 Drexel Building, Philadelphia.

Ezra, Charles, Miriam and Anna Wismer, of Hill Top Farm, Joseph Seidler and family, of Phoenixville, Amos T. Copenhaver, of Souderton, spent Sunday with Jacob Copenhaver.

WORCESTER.

Dr. Kriebel was taken to Charity Hospital in a serious condition, on Monday.

Thieves entered the barn of Wm. A. Anders and stole a buggy, a wagon light and a set of lines.

Children's Day exercises in the Schwenkfelder church next Sunday morning at 9.30 o'clock.

OAKS.

We are very much alive down in this portion of Uncle Sam's domain. We get our rations regularly, we get picked to pieces by gossip and to attend all the festivals listed, we can get after our pocket book and spend that thirty-four dollars the government declares each person in the Union should have in his or her inside pocket is only an imagination.

The Fire Company held an ice cream festival Saturday evening.

The yearly Tombola Fete of St. Paul's Sunday School will be held on the lawn in front of the Chapel this Thursday evening and the grand neighborhood rally and general good all around time of the Civic League, Saturday evening, June 24.

The Coon Club held a meeting in Corn Exchange Hall.

Joseph Famous and Miss Susie Jones, of Yerkess, were married and the year did not pass without one June bride in the community.

Mrs. Harry Campbell was buried, Wednesday, in the Lower Providence Presbyterian burying ground. The funeral was largely attended as she had many friends and relatives. She was a good friend, good neighbor and lived in this community for many years. She lived to see her sons and daughters grow to be men and women and marry. She was a good, kind mother to them. Mr. Campbell will make his home with Will Keyser and will have sale of

A Dreadful Wound.

from a knife, gun, tin can, rusty nail, fire-works, or of any other nature, demands prompt treatment with Bucklen's Arnica Salve to prevent blood poisoning or gangrene. It's the quickest, surest healer for all such wounds as also for Burns, Boils, Sores, Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Chapped Hands, Corns or Piles. 25c at Jos. W. Galters, druggist, Collegeville, and M. T. Hunsicker, Ironbridge.

household goods Saturday, June 17. See notice in the INDEPENDENT.

The commencement day is over and the graduates played their parts well. Wilbur McKee, one of the graduates is but twelve years of age.

Mrs. Howard Frederic, of Reading, was in town Wednesday.

Mrs. George Smith was a visitor at Norristown, Thursday.

The Cadets from the Military Academy, of Chester, broke camp in Valley Forge Park, Friday.

Saturday a Baptist Sunday School from Philadelphia chaparoned by Senator Tustin and the Hancock school visited the park.

Saturday, the 17th, the D. A. R. will dedicate a boulder to be erected to the memory of the dead soldiers along the drive where it passed through the cemetery near Kendall's Hill or Little Round Top. The foundation for the boulder is but three feet high and it is said the boulder will weigh thirteen tons.

It is reported the Massachusetts monument will not be dedicated until October next.

June 11th has been set aside for Father's Day, but as it is quite new little notice will be paid to it.

Flag Day, Wednesday, June 14th.

The members of the Oaks Fire Company desires to make acknowledgment for, and to publicly express their thanks to the ladies generally and to Mrs. B. C. Davis particularly for their most acceptable and much needed gift of a grand square piano, purchased by them, through Mr. Eavenson and given to the Fire Company. The members of the Fire Company are enthusiastic over this much needed favor. They appreciate the interest of the ladies of the community take in the success of the Fire Company, in making the hall pleasant and comfortable for the fire fighters and the ladies are most deserving of recognition in saying so. Everyone knows, that not anything tends to a successful termination without the help of the ladies, and so many thanks and God bless the ladies.

Mr. Amos Famous, of Norristown, visited Oaks, Saturday.

Mr. Edmund Kirk, of Philadelphia, was the guest of Mr. John U. Francis, Sr., Sunday.

Miss Flora Rupert was a Philadelphia visitor, Saturday.

A new ice cream saloon has been established down at the locks with Mrs. Frieze as proprietress.

A lively thunder shower about one o'clock Monday morning was acceptable.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bartholomew and his son and wife, of Marble Hall, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Dettra, Sunday.

Harry Shull, of Norristown, visited Oaks Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Shunk was in Norristown Sunday.

The barber shot his dog and dug a hole to bury said dog and just as he attempted to seize the dog by the tail or that part of the tail that was not disconnected by a passenger train, the dog jumped up and ran away. Any one who sees that dog the barber shot will call around to his shop and get a clean good shave, a hair cut or massage.

Down at Aba Browers the thermometer crawled up to ninety-four and if the sun had not set when it did, the thermometer would have busted. There was a hot old time in the old town trying to sleep.

DEEDS RECORDED.

SKIPPACK.

Isaac K. Freed, of Philadelphia, to Milton B. Benner, of Worcester, house and 2 tracts of 100 acres, and 17 acres, $1.

Christian M. Allebach, of Skippack, to Lizzie H. Freed, of same place, house and 2 tracts of 100 acres and 17 acres, $5000.

Fraepels I. Gowen, of Philadelphia, to Esther G. Hood, of same place, tract of 3.668 acres, $19,740.

Joseph W. Gardner, of Philadelphia, to Jane Marriott, of same place, lot on Stenton avenue, $900.

LOWER PROVIDENCE.

John R. Davis, of Lower Providence, to Jacob Lamper, of same place, 104 acres, $600.

Matilda Landis and others to A. Pearlstone, 48 acres, $100.

FREDERICK.

John C. Brenich, of Frederick, to Robert W. Rice, of same place, house and lot, $1500.

Emma S. Prizer and N. H. Rahn, executors of John G. Prizer, to Frank K. Schwenk, of Frederick, store property, $4000.

PERKIOMEN—Adam Long and others, of Philadelphia, to Jonas P. Fisher, of Perkiomen, house and 3 acres, $1.

TOWAMENCIN—Thillie Godshalk, of Towamencin, to Wm. B. Ruth, of same place, house and 3 acres, 64 perches, $2000.

JAIL SENTENCES.

John Quill, colored, assault and battery and carrying concealed deadly weapons; sentenced to the Eastern Penitentiary for not less than 9 months and not more than 3 years.

Thomas Beck, Royersford, felonious entry and malicious mischief 1 year in county jail. Abraham Hassen, of Pottstown, assault and battery; 3 months in the county jail. Daniel Delaney, of Norristown, conspiracy to defraud and fraudulently using transfers of the Schuylkill Valley Traction Co.; 30 days in the county jail. John Major, attempt to commit arson; 6 months in the county jail. Harry Maccey, assault and battery on wife and daughter; 3 months in the county jail.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the cause of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE COLLEGEVILLE NATIONAL BANK, AT COLLEGEVILLE, IN THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA, AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS, JUNE 7, 1911.

RESOURCES.
Loans and discounts	$138,444.72
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured	149.97
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation	50,000.00
Premiums on U. S. Bonds	800.00
Real estate	114,651.21
Banking house, furniture and fixtures	8,693.50
Due from National Banks (not re-serve agents)	2,021.28
Due from approved reserve agents	26,428.49
Checks and other cash items	19.82
Notes of other National Banks	969.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and coins	135.19
LAWFUL MONEY RESERVE IN BANK, VIZ:
Specie	15,828.40
Redemption fund with U. S. Treas-urer (5 per cent. of circulation)	2,500.00
Total	$357,516.58
LIABILITIES.
Capital stock paid in	$50,000.00
Surplus fund	12,500.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	4,882.80
Reserve for contingencies	48,840.00
Due to other National Banks	2,467.59
Due to Trust Companies and Savings Banks	1,706.69
Individual deposits subject to check	234,967.62
Demand certificates of deposit	2,025.00
Checks and checks outstanding	31.29
Total	$357,516.58

STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA, COUNTY OF MONTGOMERY, ss.

I, W. D. RENNINGER, cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

W. D. RENNINGER, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 9th day of June, 1911.

HARRIET R. VANDERSLICE, Notary Public.

Notary Public commission expires February 21, 1915.

Correct attests: J. P. STEINER, HENRY T. HUNSICKER, A. D. FETTEROLF, Directors.

FOR SALE. Farms, residences, hotels, building sites—all locations, prices and terms. Also a number of houses in Norristown, Bridgeport and Conshohocken.

Money to loan on first mortgage.

THOS. B. WILSON, Collegeville, Pa.

FOR SALE. A two-story potato sprayer. Can be bought cheap. Apply to ELMER PENNAPACKER, Trappe, Pa.

FENCING FOR SALE. Page and Lion Wire Fence for sale and erecting. Also iron and steel pipe and up. Lawn and Iron Fences on application. Write or call, JOHN G. SAYLOR, Collegeville, Pa.

PUBLIC SALE OF Personal Property! At the residence of the subscriber, on the public road from Mont Clare to Collegeville, in Upper Providence township, on SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1911, six thoroughbred Jersey cows, one with calf by a registered bull; also registered, registered others from registered stock; all good butter cows. 1 hour pig, 1 short, weighs 150 pounds; farm wagon with bed, farm cart, sulky, buggy, deerborn wagon, good as new, made by Vest Brothers Greenleaf; hay loaders, hay tedder, used one season; best straw by the ton, corn fodder, 30 bus. oats, 25 bus. corn, empty barrels, large copper kettle with double bottom, extra good, old best steam boiler, 20 horse power, 20 lbs. capacity, in good condition; one-hand and one-hand churn, butter worker and prints, milk strainer and bucket, iron and steel, pots, lanterns, 30-gallon farmer's boiler, bench, cupboard, were also among other articles. Everything must be sold as I have sold my farm. Sale to commence at one o'clock p. m. Conditions, four months credit on sums over $15. JOHN L. FORBES, Wayne Pearson, Auctioneer.

Also at the same time and place: Push mower, 7 pieces, dishes and glassware of all kinds, good mattress, domestic sewing machine, centre table.

KATE M. POLEY.

PUBLIC SALE OF Household Goods. Will be sold at public sale on SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1911, at the residence of the undersigned, at Oaks, Pa., the following named articles: Case, stove, new; glass-ware and dishes in variety; lot of preserves and jellies, Ingram carpet, matting, linoleum, rug, etc.; wash tubs, washing machine, clothes wringer, large iron pot, furniture, best of kind, dining-room chairs, rocking chairs, 2 couches, writing desk, one-hand and one-hand churn, butter worker and prints, milk strainer and bucket, iron and steel, pots, lanterns, 30-gallon farmer's boiler, bench, cupboard, were also among other articles. Everything must be sold as I have sold my farm. Sale to commence at one o'clock p. m. Conditions, four months credit on sums over $15. JOHN L. FORBES, Wayne Pearson, Auctioneer.

Also at the same time and place: Push mower, 7 pieces, dishes and glassware of all kinds, good mattress, domestic sewing machine, centre table.

KATE M. POLEY.

PUBLIC SALE OF Household Goods. Will be sold at public sale on SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1911, at the residence of the undersigned, at Oaks, Pa., the following named articles: Case, stove, new; glass-ware and dishes in variety; lot of preserves and jellies, Ingram carpet, matting, linoleum, rug, etc.; wash tubs, washing machine, clothes wringer, large iron pot, furniture, best of kind, dining-room chairs, rocking chairs, 2 couches, writing desk, one-hand and one-hand churn, butter worker and prints, milk strainer and bucket, iron and steel, pots, lanterns, 30-gallon farmer's boiler, bench, cupboard, were also among other articles. Everything must be sold as I have sold my farm. Sale to commence at one o'clock p. m. Conditions, four months credit on sums over $15. JOHN L. FORBES, Wayne Pearson, Auctioneer.

Also at the same time and place: Push mower, 7 pieces, dishes and glassware of all kinds, good mattress, domestic sewing machine, centre table.

KATE M. POLEY.

PUBLIC SALE OF Household Goods. Will be sold at public sale on SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1911, at the residence of the undersigned, at Oaks, Pa., the following named articles: Case, stove, new; glass-ware and dishes in variety; lot of preserves and jellies, Ingram carpet, matting, linoleum, rug, etc.; wash tubs, washing machine, clothes wringer, large iron pot, furniture, best of kind, dining-room chairs, rocking chairs, 2 couches, writing desk, one-hand and one-hand churn, butter worker and prints, milk strainer and bucket, iron and steel, pots, lanterns, 30-gallon farmer's boiler, bench, cupboard, were also among other articles. Everything must be sold as I have sold my farm. Sale to commence at one o'clock p. m. Conditions, four months credit on sums over $15. JOHN L. FORBES, Wayne Pearson, Auctioneer.

Also at the same time and place: Push mower, 7 pieces, dishes and glassware of all kinds, good mattress, domestic sewing machine, centre table.

KATE M. POLEY.

PUBLIC SALE OF Household Goods. Will be sold at public sale on SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1911, at the residence of the undersigned, at Oaks, Pa., the following named articles: Case, stove, new; glass-ware and dishes in variety; lot of preserves and jellies, Ingram carpet, matting, linoleum, rug, etc.; wash tubs, washing machine, clothes wringer, large iron pot, furniture, best of kind, dining-room chairs, rocking chairs, 2 couches, writing desk, one-hand and one-hand churn, butter worker and prints, milk strainer and bucket, iron and steel, pots, lanterns, 30-gallon farmer's boiler, bench, cupboard, were also among other articles. Everything must be sold as I have sold my farm. Sale to commence at one o'clock p. m. Conditions, four months credit on sums over $15. JOHN L. FORBES, Wayne Pearson, Auctioneer.

Also at the same time and place: Push mower, 7 pieces, dishes and glassware of all kinds, good mattress, domestic sewing machine, centre table.

KATE M. POLEY.

PUBLIC SALE OF Household Goods. Will be sold at public sale on SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1911, at the residence of the undersigned, at Oaks, Pa., the following named articles: Case, stove, new; glass-ware and dishes in variety; lot of preserves and jellies, Ingram carpet, matting, linoleum, rug, etc.; wash tubs, washing machine, clothes wringer, large iron pot, furniture, best of kind, dining-room chairs, rocking chairs, 2 couches, writing desk, one-hand and one-hand churn, butter worker and prints, milk strainer and bucket, iron and steel, pots, lanterns, 30-gallon farmer's boiler, bench, cupboard, were also among other articles. Everything must be sold as I have sold my farm. Sale to commence at one o'clock p. m. Conditions, four months credit on sums over $15. JOHN L. FORBES, Wayne Pearson, Auctioneer.

Also at the same time and place: Push mower, 7 pieces, dishes and glassware of all kinds, good mattress, domestic sewing machine, centre table.

KATE M. POLEY.

PUBLIC SALE OF Household Goods. Will be sold at public sale on SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1911, at the residence of the undersigned, at Oaks, Pa., the following named articles: Case, stove, new; glass-ware and dishes in variety; lot of preserves and jellies, Ingram carpet, matting, linoleum, rug, etc.; wash tubs, washing machine, clothes wringer, large iron pot, furniture, best of kind, dining-room chairs, rocking chairs, 2 couches, writing desk, one-hand and one-hand churn, butter worker and prints, milk strainer and bucket, iron and steel, pots, lanterns, 30-gallon farmer's boiler, bench, cupboard, were also among other articles. Everything must be sold as I have sold my farm. Sale to commence at one o'clock p. m. Conditions, four months credit on sums over $15. JOHN L. FORBES, Wayne Pearson, Auctioneer.

Also at the same time and place: Push mower, 7 pieces, dishes and glassware of all kinds, good mattress, domestic sewing machine, centre table.

KATE M. POLEY.

PUBLIC SALE OF Household Goods. Will be sold at public sale on SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1911, at the residence of the undersigned, at Oaks, Pa., the following named articles: Case, stove, new; glass-ware and dishes in variety; lot of preserves and jellies, Ingram carpet, matting, linoleum, rug, etc.; wash tubs, washing machine, clothes wringer, large iron pot, furniture, best of kind, dining-room chairs, rocking chairs, 2 couches, writing desk, one-hand and one-hand churn, butter worker and prints, milk strainer and bucket, iron and steel, pots, lanterns, 30-gallon farmer's boiler, bench, cupboard, were also among other articles. Everything must be sold as I have sold my farm. Sale to commence at one o'clock p. m. Conditions, four months credit on sums over $15. JOHN L. FORBES, Wayne Pearson, Auctioneer.

Also at the same time and place: Push mower, 7 pieces,